Pollinated flowers become fruit.

The fruit holds the seeds for the next generation of plants.

A seed is planted.

Give it a little water and warmth.

A seedling needs bright light to grow.

Pollinators help our plant mature.

Plant it outside.

Harvest time.

The Life of a Tomato

presented by www.carton2garden.com

with support from